

An Interpretation of 'Humanistic Education'—Its Goal

By WILL E. THOMAS

The assistant principal for guidance and the Lab School coordinator at Jefferson High School in Daly City have emphasized that they share the concern of Serramonte High School Association members for the welfare of young people.

This concern, said Rudie W. Tretten, the assistant principal, and Miss Julianne Jansen, the Lab School coordinator, "is not only for their ultimate well-being in a future world with very different economic, political and social institutions, but also for their welfare in our present world today."

The educators were responding to Mrs. Andrew Ynostroza of the Serramonte High School Association concerning "sensitivity" programs.

Others, including District Superintendent Edward Morgan, previously had corresponded with Mrs. Ynostroza, and their remarks were published in last week's issue of The Post, under the headline "No Creeping Sensitivity Program for Jeff High."

Tretten and Miss Jansen acknowledged the Association and Mrs. Ynostroza had raised "some sound and appropriate questions that deserve answers" and that the concerns were "very legitimate."

"Our aim," the pair wrote Mrs. Ynostroza, "and yours, we are sure, is to equip the young people with the relevant tools and skills they will need in tomorrow's world of automation and cybernation (those machines that actually think for other machines.) Our aim is also, at the same time to prevent as best we can the tragedies we know are inherent in drugs and delinquency."

They said it "is this latter concern" — or "aim," they added, that has moved many teachers "to an interest in the 'sensitivity' or awareness techniques and their applications in the classroom."

Miss Jansen and Tretten, in their joint letter, noted, "The choice, seemingly, is one of turning the youngsters on to life without drugs or abandoning them to the exhilaration of the drug 'high'."

Admittedly the two don't see sensitivity techniques — or humanistic education as we prefer to label the incorporation of such methods into the total school program — as a panacea. There are no claims of instant success, they said.

But they pointed out, the students' emotions and capacity to become personally involved in learning have been ignored by formal education.

"Man thinks and he also feels," Miss Jansen and Tretten explained. "Any meaningful attempt to engage man must do so on both the thinking and the feeling levels."

"Humanistic education, then, refers to education of the whole human being, his feelings as well as his intellect. It is not a scientific discipline in and of itself; nor is it a total emphasis on the emotional. It is, rather, a blending of various techniques designed to create a learning environment which totally involves 'the student.'"

It was pointed out that two years ago the Ford Foundation funded a project that was designed to test and make clear the aims and techniques of humanistic education.

"Results have been so encouraging that the Foundation currently is arranging the funding of two Humanistic Education Institutes at major universities," the educators said.

Answering specific association questions, the pair explained that the "goals of the teachers" using the humanistic methods "is in some way to influence behavior."

They advanced that possession of knowledge is not in and of itself a guarantee of anything — "certainly it is not indicative of future success and effectiveness."

It was asserted that "the effective human being is one who is aware of himself and of his influence on those around him. Thus, a awareness — awareness of self and of others — is perhaps the central goal of humanistic education."

Why are such methods used in English departments?

"A central goal of any English curriculum is communication ... humanistic education in its attempt to inform and enlighten the entire human being shines a sharp light onto the communicative process and the content of messages verbal, written and behavioral," the pair wrote.

The two noted that the phrase, "breakdown in communication" has "become a cliché today, and like most clichés there is truth within it," adding, "Quite possibly humanistic education can serve to help us in our attempts to (Please See Page 2, Column 4)

S.S.F. Delays 'Cluster' Action

South San Francisco councilmen Monday postponed a decision on a property owner's appeal of a planning commission ruling denying a use permit for an 18-unit "residential cluster" development adjacent to Alta Loma School on Camaritas Drive.

Mayor Frank Bertucci and council members declined to act on the appeal after a two-hour discussion during which the owner of the property, William Botteff, argued that the project "has the support of the community."

Botteff and his representatives presented petitions supporting the project signed by most residents of the cul-de-sac street, and said the only significant opposition to the development "comes from the planning commission."

City Planner Daniel Pass defended the commission's decision to deny the use permit on a variety of grounds, and said approval of the duplex development would "violate the precepts of sound planning."

"We have agreed to allow construction of nine units on this one-acre site, and that would represent a major concession," Pass said.

"To allow high density development would be a violation of the city's general plan, general plan revampment and all other guidelines for orderly development," the planner said.

He said the area is slated for "R-1" single family residential development, and "ideally, no more than four or five units should be allowed."

"The applicant's plans exceed the acceptable density level by more than 100 per cent," Pass said. "Approval of the proposed development would be tantamount to spot zoning and disaster."

Pass also said the owner's plans failed to incorporate the planning commission's proposal for a street right-of-way through the property, and approval of the project would result in "land-locking" an adjacent parcel at the Alta Loma School site.

The applicant, and Mayor Frank Bertucci, questioned (turner the school district "should be in the land development business anyway," and suggested that access to the school property was not an issue.

The excess land at the school was originally purchased for development as a corporation yard, Pass said, but district officials have since decided to market the parcel for residential development.

"I think we will be much better off with residences in this (Please See Page 2, Column 7)

D. C., Coast Split Over Line Hookup

By DON GRIERSON

Directors of the North San Mateo County Sanitation District in Daly City voted Monday to "dissolve negotiations" with Pacifica on a proposed agreement for joint use of the Coast side city's sewer treatment facilities, and rejected the entire project.

The sanitation district action followed a decision by the Pacifica Council to increase the proposed fees for Daly City residents who would have "hooked onto" the Pacifica sewer system.

Pacifica councilmen voted last week to set the annual fee at $21 per household for the 708 Daly City residents, instead of the $18 fee recommended by a consulting firm retained by the city and the district to perform a "feasibility study" of the project.

Pacifica councilmen also insisted that the homeowners in Daly City's Westlake 11 and 12 subdivisions would have to bear the full burden of a $59,000 outlay to replace two sewer lines in Pacifica, a project which would have been necessary to accommodate the added volume.

The feasibility report, prepared by Kierker, Chapman and Associates of South San Francisco, proposed that the district and the city share the expense of the new sewer line construction on a "50-50" basis.

In rejecting the latest Pacifica offer Monday, sanitation district directors Frank Pacelli, Bernard Lyett, and James Fitzgerald pointed out that Daly City residents affected by the arrangement would have been faced with a considerable increase in their annual sewer fees.

District Manager Robert Bernicchi said the homeowners involved now pay approximately $20 per year, including as (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

Pacifica 'Swindle' Suspect

Pacifica police arrested a San Francisco man Friday in connection with the alleged "bunco" swindling of an elderly Peralta Drive resident last week.

Howard F. Gordon, 38, an employee of a San Francisco heating company, was arrested at 11:30 a.m. Friday when he attempted to cash a $3,000 check signed on Thursday by 80-year-old George W. Shaw.

He has been charged with attempted grand theft and possession of a loaded gun in an automobile.

Tellers at the Linda Mar branch of the Bank of America telephoned police and detained Gordon when he presented the check.

Police had earlier requested a "stop order" on the $3,000 check and a $200 check extracted from Shaw by a man who posed as a Pacifica fireman and "condemned" the heaters in the elderly man's home.

Sgt. Ray Karczewski, who arrested Gordon at the bank, said the case is still under investigation and further arrests are expected.

Gordon was booked into the County Jail at Redwood City on Saturday.

Shaw reported to police on Thursday that a man representing himself as "an inspector for the Pacifica Fire Department" appeared at his home and inspected his two heating units.

The "inspector" told the elderly man the heaters were defective and would have to be replaced immediately, and he could not use them any longer.

When Shaw complained that his home would be cold until the heaters could be replaced, the man offered to place an order for the new equipment and have it installed within 24 hours.

He wrote two checks from blanks in Shaw's checkbook, and instructed the elderly man to sign them.

Shaw became suspicious of the transaction after the man left his home, and notified Pacific police and fire authorities.

Stop orders were placed on the two checks after he was informed that the fire department "is not in the business of selling heaters."

Fisher Moves Up To Transit Post

Ronald J. Fisher, transportation engineer and number two staff man for the West Bay Rapid Transit Authority for the past three years, was appointed acting general manager Monday.

West Bay directors set his new salary at $2,037 a month, compared with the $1,591 he has been getting.

Fisher takes over the managing duties relinquished by John Lilly, who resigned as of Monday to take a position as director of properties for the San Francisco Public Utilities Commission. Lilly was getting $2,134 a month in the West Bay job.

Fisher's future as acting manager is uncertain. A county-wide election is to be held June 10 on a master transit plan submitted by the West Bay agency. If the plan is approved by a majority of the voters, the Authority will remain in existence and proceed to implement the transit proposal, which starts with a $20 million county-wide bus system. If the plan is rejected, however, the West Bay agency will go out of existence at the end of June. Directors yesterday agreed to review Fisher's position after July 1, if they are still around at that time.

One of Lilly's last acts as general manager was to submit a budget for the 1969-70 fiscal year for consideration in the event the election is successful. Directors agreed to take no action on the spending program until after the June 10 election.

The budget proposal calls for the expenditure of $120,486, a figure approximately $167,000 lower than the 1968-69 spending program. Lilly said there is more than enough money ($173,000) remaining in the authority's one rating fund to cover the budget. So far the $1.2 million raised by a one-year surcharge on car license fees in 1965 has carried the Authority through four fiscal years, with enough left for a fifth year.

Jeff High Censure For Lipson Seen

Trustees of the Jefferson High School District in Daly City were expected to dismiss charges Tuesday against 15-year "master teacher," Eugene Lipson, in connection with the preparation and display of certain posters (collages) in his classroom.

Last night's agenda carried an item that called for a "motion to approve" dismissal of charges against Lipson, and an accompanying packet letter called for preparation of a "letter of censure" against Lipson.

See this Afternoon's Daily Times for the Results of the Meeting

If trustees went ahead with dismissal of the charges.

The "letter of censure" would be placed in Lipson's personnel file, along with all other materials related to the matter that caused the board previously to file a "resolution of intention to dismiss permanent certificated employee — Eugene Lipson."

The collages, according to school officials, were created and posted on Lipson's classroom walls under the guidance of a student teacher.

An agenda item for tonight's meeting states:

sessments for capital improvements.

"Under the Pacifica proposal, they would pay approximately $25 per year, when the capital improvement costs were added to the basic rate."

"The 'Chapman Report,' which was jointly financed by the city and the district at a total cost of $1,400, recommended implementation of the agreement, and said it affords an 'excellent opportunity for inter-city cooperation.'"

However, the arrangement was opposed from the beginning by a number of Pacifica residents, including leaders of C.O.S.T. (Citizens Opposed to the Sewer Tax), on grounds that the Daly City residents served would not be paying a fair proportion of the capital outlay for the treatment plant and sewer system.

District Director Lycett entered the motion to abandon the negotiations Monday, after noting the project has "been in the discussion stage for nearly two years, and neither side is satisfied."

"We have served those residents out in the Terrace for 11 years with our existing system, and I suggest we continue with our original plan."

The joint agreement was first proposed because of the necessity of pumping sewerage from the Westlake 11 and 12 area uphill to the treatment plant near Lake Merced in Daly City.

Bus Service Votes Urged In San Bruno

The Master Transit plan is a responsible one that will provide modern fast bus service, not only for commuters, but for people who work and live in all sections of San Mateo County, Robert D. Harrison, executive director, Governmental Research Council of San Mateo County, said last night in urging members of the Rollingwood Homeowners to vote yes at the June 10 county-wide election.

"This is not a bond election," he emphasized. "The West Bay Rapid Transit Authority, which has developed the plan, is an advisory body that can only make recommendations. It has no power to finance the plan. If the vote is carried any financing to put the plan in action will be decided by the voters at another election."

"If the measure is defeated all the time and effort that has been put into the development will go down the drain and the WBRTA will go out of existence by June 30."

"This will probably result in San Mateo County being put under the jurisdiction of a Metropolitan Transit Authority, similar to BARTD. The West Bay Rapid Transit District was created because San Mateo County did not want any part of BARTD five years ago. The uncertainties and muddles, financial and engineering in which BART has been involved, would prove that San Mateo County fears certainly were not groundless."

They spoke of the generation gap, the black-white gap and the drug gap, among others.

As to teacher qualifications in these instances, Miss Jansen and Tretten pointed out that "a good many teachers have taken an active part in workshops designed to acquaint them with humanistic education techniques," the latest on the Jefferson campus early this month.

"Some teachers are always more qualified than others," it was declared, and training in humanistic techniques will continue.

It was their conclusion that "... the results of current educational practice, as reflected by the arrest figures for drug abuse and juvenile delinquency of one form or another indicate that some new approaches are needed if we are to successfully cope with what (we) are sure you will agree is one of the most volatile younger generations ever to confront its elders or its teachers."

the agenda packet states, "It would appear that instructor Lipson was used to attract publicity for the purpose of creating a direct confrontation with the board and with little or no regard for his professional future."

The paper, dated May 12, from the board of trustees to Lipson, rapped tactics of the district's Local 1481, American Federation of Teachers.

According to a letter included in the agenda packet, "The Board of Trustees is of the opinion that Mr. Lipson regrets the incident which took place in his classroom under the direction of a practice teacher assigned to him."

In the letter, dated May 12, it was stated that the "resultant posters" placed on bulletin boards were "in extremely poor taste," and the board has concluded that "Mr. Lipson was not sufficiently attentive to his responsibilities as a master teacher."

The board, according to the letter addressed to Lipson, "deplores the lack of judgment shown by Mr. Lipson in taking advantage of the assignment of a practice teacher to acquire an additional preparation period."

But, the "board has determined," the paper stated "in deference to Mr. Lipson's 15 years of service to the district, area than a corporation yard," he said.

The Botteff property is presently undeveloped, and residents of the neighborhood have expressed concern over numerous incidents of vandalism and burglary in the remote area.

Several spokesmen indicated Monday they would prefer "any development to no development at all."

Mayor Bertucelli said Monday he would like to visit the site and conduct a "personal inspection" before rendering a decision on the project.

Councilman Patrick Ahern, who has often expressed personal doubts about the precepts of city planning in general, suggested that "the people be allowed to do whatever they want to do with their property."

not to press dismissal proceedings."

Nonetheless the board, the paper stated, "recognizes its responsibility to the community to maintain moral and ethical standards in the classrooms under its jurisdiction... and expects each district teacher to demonstrate mature judgement in the teaching of subject matter and when displaying instructional materials."

SNAP allows ARADCOM to determine the proficiency and effectiveness of its firing batteries which are stationed throughout the continental United States. Also, it serves as an aid in maintaining a well-trained and alert defense against any possible air attack directed against this country.

Given a 48-hour alert on a Thursday, Battery A departed for McGregor Missile Range, NM., for the practice. By Tuesday, the crews of Battery A, commanded by Captain Michael V. Ivanoff, had assembled and actually fired live NIKE-HERCULES and NIKE-AJAX missiles under simulated tactical conditions.

In addition, the battery conducted exercises in which they demonstrated a high degree of knowledge and competency concerning missile assembly, preparation of the system for firing and operation of sophisticated guidance and homing equipment.

The 43 missile men from Battery A were accompanied by Lt. Col. Angelo C. Liberato, commanding officer of the 1st Battalion (HERC), 250th Artillery, and Major James W. Jones, the battalion operations officer.

Battery A forms an integral part of the San Francisco-Travis Air Force Base Air Defense Network, a network constantly on the alert for enemy attack from the skies. This unit and the six other firing batteries in the defense network are under the operational control of the 40th Artillery Brigade (Air Defense), headquartered at the Presidio of San Francisco, Calif.

Beauty In Sky Pageant Won by Kim Hobson, 17

By WILL THOMAS

Kim Hobson, a 17-year-old Crestmoor High student, already was high among the clouds when she won the "Miss San Bruno" beauty crown Saturday.

Miss Hobson, who measures 36-26-36, was one of three finalists participating in the contest several thousand feet above ground aboard an American Airlines Astrojet.

Runners-up in the Aviation Appreciation Week contest were 19-year-old Mary Clarkson and 18-year-old Angela Rodriguez. The pageant-in-the-sky was billed as "probably the first time" a beauty queen has been selected in flight.

It was somewhere between Lake Tahoe and San Francisco International Airport that Miss Dobson was announced as the winner, selected by a group of five judges sitting among the 14 passengers making the special Aviation Week trip.

Though she won the contest elsewhere—up above—Miss Dobson received her crown from Miss San Bruno 1968 Debbie Henley, also Miss San Mateo County, shortly after the plane landed and moved slowly toward the terminal.

The craft took off on the special airborne journey shortly after 8 p.m.—a half-hour late, and headed north.

A trip south had been planned, but fog over the intended view-areas made it preferable to fly north for the third straight year.

Passengers enjoyed cocktails, sandwiches and an at-dusk view of Lake Berryessa and Clear Lake; later, the white peaks of the Sierras and the night lights surrounding Lake Tahoe.

Then, the three Miss San Bruno finalists walked the length of the plane twice in evening gowns, to be judged primarily on beauty of face and figure (80 per cent), but also 10 per cent on walk, carriage and grace, and 10 per cent on "personality."

George Corey, city councilman and a member of the sponsoring San Bruno Chamber of Commerce's board of directors, was master of ceremonies.

The new Miss San Bruno stands 5-7½ tall, weighs 128 pounds, has green eyes and brown hair. She enjoys modern dance and swimming.

First runner-up Mary Clarkson, stands 5-4, weighs 112 pounds, has hazel eyes, brown hair, and measures 36-24-36, and likes horseback riding and swimming.

The second runner-up, Miss Rodriguez, an attractive native of Puerto Rico, has measurements of 34-24-34, stands 5-5, weighs 110 pounds, and enjoys playing the guitar and singing.

Missionaries Will Speak At Broadmoor

Sherman and Alice Fung have a personal missionary relationship with the congregation of the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church, 377 87th Street, Daly City, and this weekend they fly up from Los Angeles, where he is doing some graduate work at Los Angeles State College.

They will be with the local congregation and be hosted in the Louis Haan home.

Haan is chairman of the church's mission committee. Saturday, the Broadmoor Church will have a dime-a-dip dinner to be served cafeteria style from 6 to 6:45 p.m.

Members of the congregation will donate food in the potluck manner.

Then at about 7 p.m. the Fungs will show and explain pictures of Iran and of their ministry there.

The local Mariners for couples will host the dinner. At Sunday's two worship services at 9:30 and 11 a.m. Fung will bring a message in witness of the world influence of the Christian Church.

Also, at both services supplementing the regular church choir a guest group of ladies named the Treble-Tones will sing four sacred numbers. The public is invited by the local pastors, the Revs. Herbert Tweedie and the Rev. Aaron Miller.

DON ZANDERS

Jaycees Elect Pacifica Man

Don (Zip) Zanders of Pacifica was elected national director for the California Jaycees last week at the organization's forty-second annual state convention in Anaheim.

Zanders, a member of the Pacifica Jaycees and former governor of the organization's District 26 in Placer and El Dorado County, will be in charge of the "community development" program at the state level.

Mayor Denies Account of S.S.F. Luncheon

South San Francisco Mayor Frank Bertucelli reports he intends to take action against the publisher of two north county newspapers which alleged he and two other council members violated state regulations on secrecy in government.

Bertucelli said a report which appeared in the Enterprise Journal and the Westlake Record on Wednesday accusing the councilmen of violating the Brown Act March 3 "is totally without foundation."

"I am now demanding a formal retraction of the allegations," Bertucelli said.

The column item in the two newspapers, both published by the Industrial City Publishing Co., states that the mayor, Councilman Patrick Ahern and another unidentified councilman, along with City Attorney John Noonan, met at a South San Francisco restaurant March 2 and "the mayor signed a luncheon check for $20."

"Besides being a questionable use of taxpayers' funds, isn't that a violation of the Brown Act?" the column item asks.

According to both Bertucelli and Noonan, there was no meeting between the persons named on March 3.

"We did meet for lunch at the Leaning Tower Restaurant on January 28," the mayor said,

"to discuss city business during a personnel session called to interview applicants for the city manager's post."

At that meeting, which was adjourned from a study session which followed a regular meeting on January 30, Bertucelli, Ahern and Councilman Andrew Rocca interviewed three applicants for the manager's post during the course of the day, according to Noonan.

The attorney was also present during the session.

"As I recall, Bertucelli signed the luncheon check at the restaurant," Noonan said.

A claim for the $20 check was filed in the city clerk's office on February 3, according to the city attorney, and the mayor was reimbursed.

Elected officials may meet in private session to discuss personnel matters under the provisions of the Brown Act, provided the meeting is announced during a regular or adjourned meeting.

Two Men Rob Shoe Store

Two men burst into Bloom's Shoe store in the Westlake Shopping Center Saturday night, flashed a .38-caliber snub-nose pistol and made off with between $400 and $500 in store receipts.

Daly City police said the two white male adults entered the store shortly after 6 p.m. Both men wore dark clothing and were described as in their early or mid-30's.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED—REPLACEMENT OR MONEY REFUNDED

Chamber Confrontation Between Ryan, Lycett

By FRANK LAPIERRE

Assemblyman Leo Ryan came to Daly City Thursday to smooth political feathers that have become increasingly ruffled in recent months over his stand on AB 272. He went back to Sacramento leaving politicians and scores of prominent North County citizens more angered than ever.

Ryan had agreed to be the guest speaker at the Daly City-Solma Chamber of Commerce Luncheon Thursday in the hope of publicly explaining his stand on several pieces of legislation, including the controversial AB 272 which goes into effect next year.

Sections of the bill allow school districts to levy taxes on homeowners without consent of the electorate. For months, at least two North County mayors — Pacifica's Nick Gust and Daly City's Bernard (Bud) Lycett — have voiced opposition to the bill and blasted Ryan at every opportunity.

Mayors Had Prepared
Yesterday, they were not given that opportunity, although both mayors had prepared a list of questions for the assemblyman.

The meeting started early even though Ryan arrived 30 minutes late) to afford members and guests ample time to ask questions of the assemblyman.

But Ryan disappointed most of the audience by saying he had "time for only one question" after concluding his 45 minute speech.

Senior citizens' president Julius Castellans asked Ryan what chance AB 8, a bill Ryan Co-authored and one which would give property tax relief to homeowners on fixed incomes, had of passing. The bill requires 54 assembly and 24 senate votes to pass.

Ryan responded senior citizens might pool their efforts to get the bill passed.

The head of Daly City's

500-member senior citizens group threatened to begin circulation of a referendum to kill AB 272 or "perhaps we will all go on a tax strike."

Before the "one-question" clause was invoked, Ryan, chairman of the Assembly's Education Committee, informed the crowd packing Toto's Restaurant that he was "a little disappointed" in the Chamber's stand on the matter of AB 272.

Last month the chamber sent Ryan a letter protesting AB 272 and insisting he help repeal those sections dealing with taking off the property tax rate.

No Correspondence
The former South San Francisco schoolteacher said there appeared to be immediate panic among the people when they see things happening and later told how there was no correspondence received concerning AB 272 since it was introduced about three years ago.

"Now, when the bill becomes effective next year, there is a lot of talk about it," Ryan said.

The remark was interpreted by many as a slap at Lycett for his remarks concerning Ryan's stand on various school bills — especially 272 — in the past few months.

Lycett Angered
An angered Lycett jumped to his feet after Ryan finished with Castellans, asking if the assemblyman was interested in being corrected on a few "Minor mistakes" he made during his speech.

"I'm especially interested in knowing, Assemblyman Ryan, if you would like to be corrected on the part of your speech where you said no correspondence was received on this bill since it was introduced," Lycett boomed.

"I'm not here to debate you Mr. Mayor," Ryan answered.

Tell It Like It Is
"You told these people — your constituents — how it's going to be," Lycett persisted. "There's a saying out in these parts, Assemblyman. Tell it like it is... not how it's going to be!" Lycett shouted.

Ryan refused to answer and Chamber President Elio Fontana stepped into the verbal fray before it could go further, apologizing for Ryan's early departure and explaining the Assemblyman would be back.

A spokesman for Ryan's office said the Assemblyman flew to San Mateo via private plane for the meeting, even though he had an important committee meeting that afternoon in Sacramento. The explanation soothed few tempers after Ryan left.

Mayor Lycett later said Ryan's "important Sacramento meeting" was nothing more than a ploy to stall off questions.

Asked for his opinion of the meeting, Pacifica Mayor Gust smiled, shrugged and walked away — in that order.

Start 'Grass Roots' Drive On Bay Bill

Arlen Gregorio today announced formation in San Bruno of a San Bruno-Save-Our-Bay Action Committee Saturday. He said a "grassroots" reaction had resulted in what he termed the legislature's "failure to act on strong bay-saving legislation."

Co-chairman with Gregorio is Bob Tonnesen. Both are longtime Sierra Club activists.

"All of the members of the new group have felt the need to band together to help save this precious resource," Gregorio said.

Action priorities for the group are circulation of literature and bumper strips and collection of signatures on petitions directed to Governor Reagan and Senator Dolwig, in whose powerful Governmental Efficiency Committee the bay bills, Gregorio said, have been "locked up."

To do this Tonnesen, also San Bruno planning commission chairman, said, "The committee will set up tables at prominent spots in San Bruno's shopping areas Saturday and Sunday, and on both days will do neighborhood canvassing."

Among the local leaders and residents already participating in the committee's activities are: James Hensel, George Corey, Bill Cox, Mrs. Sheila Foss, Tony Gervais, Bill Larson, Janet Crosse, Mrs. Bob Tonnesen, Mrs. Jean Whitaker, Leon Miller, Mrs. Carol Carter, Dave Sanders, Miss Marsha Sanders, Mrs. Joan Parker, and Mrs. Dorothy Reardon.

A Unique Contest

REPUBLICAN QUEEN — Erika Meidl, center, South San Francisco High School senior, last week was elected "Miss Young Republican" at meeting of San Mateo County Young Republican organization at Bank of America, San Mateo. With her are Barbara Sullivan of Burlingame, left, county YR vice chairman; and Mike Kuhl, Stanford, county chairman.

Furnace Fire Damage High

A furnace fire caused an estimated $3,000 damage to the South San Francisco home of Frank De Maderios Friday.

A fire department officer said De Maderios woke up to the smell of smoke at 5:45 a.m., alerted his wife and three youngsters and sent a son to pull a fire alarm box on Heather Way.

The De Maderios home is at 376 Heather Way.

Mini-Bike Crackdown In Daly City

By FRANK LAPIERRE

The Daly City council may have granted a business license to a mini-bike sales and service company last week; however, this action should not be interpreted as giving operators of the two-wheeled motorbikes permission to operate them on city streets.

Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett, acting on advice from city attorney Albert Polonsky, Monday cast a tie-breaking vote in favor of granting the license.

Councilmen Edward J. Dennis and Francis Pacelli registered "no" votes, while councilmen Anthony Giamonna and Michael De Bernardi voted approval.

Although the action gave the Mini-Bike company permission to sell and service both bikes and go-carts, the council vowed to crack down hard on anyone found operating them on public streets.

In the past, children were slapped on the wrists when they were caught riding the small motor vehicles on city streets.

Now, Mayor Lycett wants to hit violators hard — perhaps even fining parents and impounding the vehicles.

In order for a mini-bike to operate off private property, it must be equipped with all normal safety devices, such as headlights, taillights and brake lights plus a registration tag issued by the State Department of Motor Vehicles.

The bikes can operate "as is" only on private property, according to present laws.

And to operate a motor vehicle (a mini-bike is considered to be in this category) the operator must possess a valid driver's license. To get such a license a person must be at least sixteen years old.

Beginning last year, mini-bikes have become a good source of revenue for dealers. Many parents buy them for their children, who supposedly drive them either around their own yards or have them hauled by family car to a remote area of San Bruno Mountain for use in running up and down trails, as an example.

But most children — usually between the ages of 12 and 16 years old — sooner or later try their luck at zooming up and down city streets or school playgrounds (the latter also is illegal).

Pleas from police to parents asking for their help in safeguarding against this, have fallen on deaf ears.

Every day the bikes are seen on streets and the police department is flooded with calls from irate residents and shaken drivers who have barely missed smashing into them.

Injuries are likewise skyrocketing.

Last week a 12-year-old child was seriously injured on the slopes of San Bruno Mountain while another local youth lost his left foot when he darted in front of a pickup truck.

Bruno Girl Wins $2,000 Scholarship

Miss Kathleen S. Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Cox of 2340 Toyon Way, San Bruno, has been awarded a $2,000 scholarship for four years of college study by the Western Conference of Teamsters.

The 17-year-old winner is a straight "A" student and ranks third in the class of 350 students who will graduate next month from Crestmoor High School in San Bruno. Her father, a member of Teamster Bakery Drivers Local Union 484, is a sales supervisor for Oroweat Baking Co. in South San Francisco.

The award is one of 15 being made this year by the Western Conference of Teamsters and its affiliated unions to members' children from among 790 applicants who have been selected as being deserving by a committee of three educators. It brings to 68 the number of students given financial assistance under the Teamster's scholarship program since it was initiated five years ago.

Miss Cox intends to matriculate at the University of California at Davis in September and her present interests are in preparing for a career as a mathematics teacher. She engaged in numerous extra-curricular activities at Crestmoor, including the California Scholarship Federation, Spanish Club of which she is president, Student Council, Honor Society, International Club of which she is president.

San Bruno Girls In Ballet Recital

Girls from the trainable mentally retarded classes at Palos Verdes School in San Bruno will present their second annual ballet recital on May 29, at 1 p.m. in the school auditorium.

The unusual class is taught by Grete Sorensen, a professional ballet teacher who is affiliated with Dance, Inc., the volunteer organization which is made up of professional dance teachers working with all types of handicapped children.

Mrs. Sorensen, who also has a studio in Daly City, where she conducts classes in classical ballet for regular students, has worked with the mentally retarded on a volunteer basis for the past four years.

Dance training results in improved physical coordination, better muscle tone, increased awareness of rhythms and timing, better posture, and more grace, poise, and self-assurance for the retarded child.

Mrs. Mary Smith, a member of the regular Palos Verdes School teaching staff and a dance enthusiast, both in her professional and private life, works with Mrs. Sorensen in the ballet classes.

YOLANDA RAMIREZ, Janice Nolan and Carol Andreacchi practice for upcoming Palos Verdes School's second annual ballet recital, on May 29. The unusual class is taught by Grete Sorensen, a professional ballet teacher, who works with all types of handicapped children. (Post Photo)

TERRA NOVA TOPICS ...

By Alice Reichert

"Stars and Stripes for Fashion" was the theme of last Thursday's P-TA fashion show held in the Terra Nova cafeteria at 1:30. All decked out in their own favorite creations, homemaker classes, clothing, some 150 girls from freshmen and advanced clothing classes, participated in the annual affair.

The once just-a-lunchroom was beautifully transformed into a fashion show setting with the aid of red, white, and blue crepe paper designs and coordinating fabrics from Maryanne's Fashion Fabric Shop in Linda Mar shopping center. Balloons of the same colors made interesting centerpieces, and silver cardboard stars were strung from the ceiling, all giving an impression of professional taste and talent.

General chairmen of this year's show were Linda Carlton and Diane Whitcomb; assistant chairmen, Lee Amato and Deborah Douglass, all students of the Clothing 5 and 6 class. Narrators were Deborah Douglass, Diane Whitcomb, Mary Baxter, Patti Howard, and Linda Carlton.

The Terra Nova foods classes made and served the refreshments, including a pineapple creation called 24 Hour Dessert, and the popular Raspberry Torte.

Participating teachers were Mrs. Kreiger, Miss McDermott and Mrs. Smith. Ron Price acted as M.C.

The Terra Nova Aquinas, the synchronized swimming club, presented their second annual swim show, The Water Carnival, on May 13 and 14, 8:15 p.m. at the Terra Nova pool.

Synchronized swimming, a show of breath and muscle control in underwater dance, was of course the main object of the show. Several numbers were performed by all or small groups of the Aquinas to music. Also performing were exhibi-

Lorette, who has a sister, Susan, was graduated from South San Francisco High School. Her husband is a Balboa High School graduate.

Awards to Local Women's Clubs

Two local junior women's clubs were among the award winners at the Thirteenth Annual Pacifica District Convention of Women's Clubs, Junior Memberships, in San Mateo.

The Crystal Springs Junior Women's Club won the Sweepstakes Award in the small club division and first place honors in education, mental health, fine arts (the result of the San Bruno Autumn Art Festival held in September) and youth activities which included sponsorship of Cadet Troop No. 456, funds raised for campships and sponsorship of a trip to Asilomar for Cadet Jane Hazen last fall.

Mrs. Gordon Nelson, president, accepted the first two awards, and Mrs. James Howard and Mrs. James Cruson received the art and youth awards respectively.

The San Mateo Junior Women's Club took the first place award in federation development.

Second place awards included one in "Build a Better Community" for Crystal Springs accepted by Mrs. Donald Bruce. San Mateo took second place awards in press, conservation and youth activities, and third place in Americanism and mental health.

A special Meals for Millions appreciation award went to Crystal Springs and was accepted by Mrs. Chris Borton.

At the convention Mrs. Nelson was named Citizen of the Year for the district, and Crystal Springs' Teenage Citizen of the Year candidate, Nancy Tonnesen, won the state and district title. Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. Cruson will accompany Nancy to Sacramento May 22 where she will speak at the state convention luncheon.

Mrs. John von Almen, for-Springs club coordinator from the San Bruno Women's City Club, will go with them.

Mrs. John von Almen, former president of the San Mateo club, was installed as first vice president and dean of chairmen at the convention. Mrs. von Almen was convention chairman. Mrs. Ben Hardin of Los Gatos will serve as president for the district this year.

Mrs. John Outzen, past president of the district, and past president of the San Mateo club, also attended the luncheon which honored past district presidents.

League of Women Voters Set Transit Topic at Meeting

The May 27 meeting of the League of Women Voters of the Fairmont Recreation Center, 649 Parkview Circle, Pacifica, will feature the topic, "Rapid Transit — Pro and Con." The meeting is designed to help San Mateo County residents make their choice when they vote on June 10.

The night meeting is a new venture for the North County League to extend activities among the membership and create community involvement in vital issues.

Some of the questions expected to be answered:

At the turn of the century San Mateo County had 12,004 residents, in 1940 a population of 111,786, by 1980 what?

Which one of the several plans submitted by the engineering firm for West Bay Rapid Transit Authority will be placed on the ballot?

Who decided what was to be placed before the voters?

Who helped with this decision?

What will a "yes" vote do for me, and for the County?

What will a "no" vote do?

All residents of the county are invited to attend.

The election on June 10 is not a bond issue.

Parkview Circle can be reached by going on Skyline to Hickey Boulevard. Parkview Circle is a right hand turn off of Hickey. The entrance to the parking lot is a driveway between two houses and the League will have a sign out at the entrance of the driveway.

Westlake Catholic Women to Install

ALEMANY AT LAKE MERCED BLVD. DALY CITY

'where ample and free convenient parking makes shopping a pleasure'

Janice Marie Pariani and Joseph Paul Caron recited their marriage vows yesterday afternoon at All Souls Catholic Church in South San Francisco.

The Rev. David Caron officiated at the double ring ceremony for his brother. A reception, hosted by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pariani, took place at the Western Merchandise Mart in San Francisco. Joseph is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Caron.

Janice, escorted to the altar by her father, wore an A-line, Empire gown of silk organza with short sleeves, scoop neckline and appliques of corded Chantilly lace on the bodice, side panels and hem. The waistline of the gown was similarly applied with lace, seed pearls and crystals. A pleated peau de sole, that with re-embroidered Alencon lace and seed pearls secured her tiered illusion veil, and she carried white roses and stephanotis.

Donna Traverso acted as maid of honor for Janice in a lime green ottoman cloth gown detailed with Venise lace on the bodice. The bridesmaids, in similar gowns, were Nancy Pariani and Mary Ann Caron, sisters of the couple; Judy Armanino and Donna Fontana, cousins of the bride, and Laura Iskra.

Clusters of daisies caught their blusher veils, and they carried yellow daisies in colonial bouquets.

Jim Caron stood with his brother as best man, and ushering duties were shared by Michael Pariani, brother of the bride; Larry Galeotti, Bob Galeotti and Tony Fontana, cousins of the couple, and Ken Cattaneo.

After a two-week honeymoon in Hawaii, the newlyweds will make their home in South San Francisco.

The new president-elect, Mrs. Clifton West, will accept the gavel from Mrs. William Corbett, out-going president.

The remaining officers to be installed are vice president, Mrs. Philip Glebow; recording secretary, Mrs. Mario Mangini; treasurer, Mrs. Dario Baciocco; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. J. Fitzgerald and directors Mrs. Frank Lawson, Mrs. Harold Torkelson and Mrs. Thomas Caldoroja.

In addition to the installation a number of service awards will be made to volunteers who have served 500 hours.

Tomorrow night the Franklin D. Roosevelt P.T.A. under the leadership of its newly elected president Mrs. Jerry Galindo, will hold a Fathers and Sons night in the schools multi use room at 7:30 p.m.

The program will be put on by the Pop Warner football league who will have films and speakers explaining the league and what opportunities it offers to school age boys.

An invitation has been extended to all of FDR's boy students to attend this interesting meeting with their fathers or other adult male escort.

A program on "Desert Plants and Flowers" will be presented by Tom Parish of Hillsborough. He will show slides from a recent trip he made to Death Valley.

All persons interested in gardening are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served. For further information, contact the club's president, Lila Pflig.

Something Different For That Menu

GOOD MORNING, good cooks.

Enjoy having your friends over for a luncheon? Or does a luncheon obligation hang over your head like a sword?

Unless you simply dislike the prospective guests, the usual reason for your unhappiness involves the decision of what to serve, because each hostess hopes to offer something different and tasty, as well as eye appealing.

But what? A new entree? A different salad? A fan- cy dessert?

If these questions cause you to sigh and put off that invitation, perhaps we can pass on some help.

Mrs. Fran Cohen of San Francisco had a luncheon recently and her menu answered all these questions, deliciously:

MENU

Beef Noodle Stroganoff

Orange Sherbert Molded Salad

French Mustard Slices

Schoum Torte

BEEF NOODLE STROGANOFF

1/4 cup butter (1/2 stick)
1/2 cup chopped onions
1 lb. fresh mushrooms or a large can of mushrooms
1 pound ground round steak
3 Tablespoons flour
1 can tomato sauce, 8 oz. size
1/2 c. Burgundy wine
1 cup canned beef bouillon
1 teas. salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 cup sour cream
1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
1 package, medium wide noodles, cooked
In a large skillet, saute the half cup chopped onions in the one-fourth cup butter over medium heat until lightly browned. Add the one pound ground round and brown. Add the mushrooms, the one teaspoon salt and one-half teaspoon pepper and the three table- spoons flour. Stir to mix the flour in well and cook about 5 minutes longer, stirring as you go. Then remove from heat.
In a bowl combine the one can tomato sauce, one-half cup wine, the cup of beef bouillon and the one-half cup parmesan cheese. Pour this into the meat mixture and mix well. Lastly blend the one cup sour cream into all.
Meantime cook the noodles as directed on pack- age. Drain and arrange a layer of noodles in a buttered 2-quart casserole. Spoon part of the meat mixture on top; repeat. End with the meat mixture on top.
Bake uncovered in 375 degree oven for about 25 minutes. Serves 4 to 6.

ORANGE SHERBERT MOLDED SALAD

1 cup cold water
3 packages orange gelatin
2 cups boiling water
1/2 cup pineapple juice
1 pint orange sherbet
1 can crushed pineapple, no. 2 size can, drained
2 small cans Mandarin oranges
3 sliced bananas
Combine the three packages orange gelatin with the two cups boiling water, stir until all the gelatin is dissolved. Add the one cup cold water and the one-half cup pineapple juice. Fold in the one pint orange sher- bet.
Stir in the one can crushed pineapple (which has been well drained) and the two cans Mandarin or- anges, drained. Add the three sliced bananas.
Pour into a large, 2-quart mold and refrigerate to chill.
Serve garnished with lettuce leaves, with a dress- ing made of mayonnaise thinned with pineapple juice.
NOTE: This makes a very large salad, sufficient for 12 or more.

I FOUND THIS FRENCH BREAD just delicious. Almost too delicious! I had to fight myself to keep from taking a third slice.

FRENCH MUSTARD SLICES

1/2 cups soft butter or margarine
1/4 cup snipped parsley
2 Tablespoons chopped green onion
2 Tablespoons prepared mustard
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 loaf French bread
In a small mixing bowl combine the one-half cup margarine, one-fourth cup parsley, two tablespoons each chopped green onion and prepared mustard, and the one teaspoon lemon juice. Mix well.
Slice the French bread in 1/2-inch slices. Spread the butter mixture on both sides of bread. Reassemble into loaf; wrap loosely in foil. Heat in 375-degree oven 10 to 15 minutes.

SCHOUM TORTE

4 eggs, separated
1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
1 cup sugar
Place the separated egg yolks in top of double boil- er and cover. Beat the four egg whites with the one- fourth teaspoon cream of tartar, until almost stiff. Add the one cup sugar, two tablespoons at a time and beat well after each addition. The meringue will be quite stiff.
Line a pan, square or round (6 to 8-inch square, no larger) with waxed paper. Spread the meringue over paper. Place the torte in a 250-degree oven and bake about 60 minutes, or until the meringue takes on a light brown color. Remove the torte from the pan immediately and set aside to cool. When cold take off the waxed paper. It may break a bit, but just put the pieces back in place. Fill with the following filling.

LEMON FILLING

4 egg yolks
1/2 cup sugar
grated rind of a lemon
3 Tablespoons lemon juice
Combine the four egg yolks, one-half cup sugar, lemon rind and three tablespoons lemon juice in top of double boiler. Whip over boiling water until fluffy, then cook, stirring until thick. Remove and cool.
When ready to serve spoon the cooled lemon mix- ture into the meringue. Top with whipped cream.

A Summer Symphony Season Set

Plans for the sixth season of the South San Francisco Summer Symphony were announced by Robert Bridges, musical director and conductor.

The symphony program, which is under the auspices of the South San Francisco Recreation and Parks Department, will include eight weeks of rehearsals for a symphonic band, symphony orchestra and a small wind ensemble.

James Griewe of San Francisco will return this year as assistant conductor and staff manager.

The rehearsals for the 1969 season will begin the week of June 16-20. The band and wind ensemble will meet on Monday and Friday evenings and the symphony orchestra will meet each Wednesday evening. According to Bridges, the programs for the summer concerts have been nearly finalized. This year, the South San Francisco Arts Guild has facilitated the symphony's attempt to have the symphony's library of the California State Arts Commission and several private libraries are being utilized.

Membership in the South San Francisco Symphony is open to any interested musicians. "Technical ability requirements will be determined after the initial rehearsals," stated Bridges. "There is no fee for the symphony and musicians of all ages are encouraged to investigate this established organization."

THE PENNEY STORY
The only thing that we really sell...

By ROBERTA NASH
"The only thing we really sell is satisfaction," a store manager told me recently. We do everything humanly possible to make sure you'll be satisfied with the things you buy at Penney's. Yet, once in a blue moon, something happens and you're not satisfied. What should you do?
Please bring it back to Penney's so we can make you satisfied. Please? It's much more important to us than it is to you. We have such wonderful plans for our future, and they all depend on keeping you satisfied.

Jeff Teacher 'Package' Is Approved

Trustees of the Jefferson High School District last Tuesday approved the Jefferson massive teacher-drafted "educational and professional improvement program" with only three items of the 94-point package referred back to the Negotiating Council.

The action by the board followed an extensive page-by-page, point-by-point analysis of the package, which JUHSDA president, Alex Fraser, had insisted be adopted in its entirety.

Trustee Elio Fontana voted against the package.

Rejected temporarily — the result of the referral back to negotiating council — were:

1—Demands that teacher organizations be allowed to make recommendations on the selection of the superintendent, all district administrators and in the establishment of new administrative positions, with such suggestions to be carried by the council chairman into any executive session or screening committee meetings on the matters; 2—That students and the community be encouraged to get involved in a more systematic way in the formulation and implementation of curriculum and school policy and formation of a 28-member community.

The item was referred back pending a report from a district curriculum planning committee already in existence and currently working with PACE.

3—An item regarding arbitration in the case of grievances; sent back primarily for "refinement" of cost factors.

In approving the package, trustees agreed to an education program feature that included the premise that "curriculum development in the Jefferson High School District is a cooperative process involving teachers, department chairmen, administrative staff, certificated organizations and other interested persons working together within the framework prescribed by the State Education Code."

YOUNG JOURNALISTS FROM all parts of San Mateo County were honored by The Times last week at the fourth annual awards dinner. Pictured above with their plaques are the students from public and parochial schools. Faculty advisers, principals and superintendents also joined in the dinner with Times' executives.

Big Freeway Gap Behind Schedule

One of the most important sections in the Junipero Serra Freeway — from San Bruno Avenue to Arroyo Drive (approximately 2.3 miles) — is four months behind schedule.

That's what the State Department of Highways says today in its progress report dealing with construction of highways throughout the North County.

Blame Mud

The blame for the delay was attributed to the rains and mud conditions encountered during construction. The project — now scheduled for completion in mid-1971 — is 18 per cent finished. The $3 million project, awarded to L. C. Smith Company last year, calls for an eight-lane freeway with a massive interchange at San Bruno Avenue and Sneath Lane.

In addition, a partial direct interchange will be built with future Interstate Route 380 (formerly designated Route 186). There will also be included in the project preliminary grading between El Camino Real and the freeway for future Route 380.

While several proposed roadways have been bogged down — both from this spring's heavy rains and negotiations with various agencies — over-all highway is being made on those projects now under way.

In Daly City, work is 17 per cent completed on the planting of some 36 acres of roadside areas south of Arroyo Drive in South San Francisco to Eastmoor Avenue in Daly City.

Cost of the project is $505,000 and is being done by Watkin & Sibbald Associates.

Once completed, this 3.4-mile-long project will link the landscaping areas from Eastmoor Avenue for 2.7 miles to San Jose Avenue in San Francisco.

Landscaping

Another landscaping project, from north of Larkspur Drive to San Bruno Avenue (1.9 miles) is scheduled for completion in late 1970. Cost of the project is $200,000.

The 1.6 mile section of eight-lane freeway between the junction of Route One and Interstate 280 and St. Francis Boulevard in Daly City was opened to the public in March. Contractor on that $1.8 million job was Pieter Kiewit & Sons.

The project included undercrossings at Southgate and Clarinada avenues, with ramp connections to Serramonte Boulevard and Clarinada.

27 Peninsula Journalists Honored

Outstanding journalism students, representing 27 Peninsula high schools were honored May 14 at The Times' Fourth Annual "Most Valuable Staffer" awards dinner.

The function was held at the Villa Chartier in San Mateo, before an audience of nearly 100 persons, including educators from the San Mateo County High Schools and members of The Times' business and editorial staffs. Bronze plaques were given to students who had been chosen earlier by their individual high school for "outstanding contributions" to their school newspapers during the present school year.

J. Hart Clinton, President and Publisher of The Times presented the plaques. Walter A. Jack, Vice-President of The Times, served as master of ceremonies and led after dinner table discussions among students, faculty and newspaper representatives. Students receiving awards were:

Linda Amezcua, Terra Nova; Steve Becker, San Mateo; Karen Billett, Oceana; Daniel Bonnet, Serra; Juliet Brosing, Pescadero; Shirley I. Cabral, Redwood; Dean Fumabiki, Ravenswood; Ray Hallil, Capuchino; Landon Hollander, Menlo-Atherton; Paula Jackson, Carmel; David Johnson, Sequoia; Allison Lindauer, Half Moon Bay; Terese Loof, Mercy (San Francisco); Robin MacAulay, Woodside.

Rick Malaspina, Burlingame.

Jeff Executive Loses Battery

Jefferson Union High School District superintendent Edward Morgan told Daly City police someone stole the battery from his auto while it was parked outside the Westmoor High School last week.

Morgan was inside Westmoor — one of the schools he supervises — when the incident occurred, police said.

Cap Leader Hails Youth Participation

Peter Gould, president of the Capuchino High School student body, today hailed a move for youth participation in government.

On April 7 the Millbrae City Council voted to create two new seats on the Millbrae Park and Recreation Commission to be filled by students.

This action, Gould said, "represents one of the most positive steps to be taken towards the improvement of relations between young people and adults in the interest of their community."

Two full voting members of the commission will be selected from the student population of Millbrae.

Candidates for the positions will be nominated by student body presidents of Mills and Capuchino High School. Private schools in the area may also nominate candidates from among their students who reside in Millbrae.

Private schools should contact the principal of the public high school that the selected student would ordinarily attend.

Student members finally chosen to fill the newly created seats on the Millbrae Park and Recreation Commission will have the right to participate fully in the activities of the commission.

"Hopefully, the students' awareness of the needs of young people will help the city provide the best recreation program possible in Millbrae."

This "historic development" in providing young people with a voice in their government, Gould said, is an "impressive step towards utilizing the human resources of adults and young people in a cooperative and positive manner. The Millbrae City Council is to be commended for being the first town in the Bay Area to actively involve young people in local government."

Petition For 2nd Library At Pacifica

Pacifica officials are planning to petition the Board of Supervisors for a second city library, preferably at the Sanchez Adobe site in Linda Mar.

Mayor Nick Gust was appointed as a "one-man committee" Monday to approach the board in the matter after he proposed that the historic adobe be transformed into a library.

The city presently has only one public library, and it is located in the Sharp Park district, several miles distant from the Linda Mar neighborhood.

"I think the Sanchez Adobe is an excellent choice for a new library site, both because of its historical significance and its location in the Linda Mar area, where we have no other library facilities," the mayor said.

Gust will propose that the board provide funds to establish the library, and that the city assume responsibility for maintenance and operation of the facility.

Summer Sessions To Begin

The South San Francisco Elementary School summer session will begin June 23 and continue through August 1, according to Principal Marijane Baker.

Classes will be held in four schools in the district. Each school will have classes from 8:30 a.m. until 12 noon, Monday through Friday for grades 1 to 5.

Mrs. Baker said, "If enrollment warrants, classes will be held at the following locations: Avalon School for all children residing within the attendance boundaries serviced by Ponderosa and Avalon Schools with the exception of children living in Francisco Terrace. Buri Buri School for all children residing within the attendance boundaries serviced by Foxridge, Skyline and Monte Verde Schools. Spruce School for all children residing within the attendance boundaries serviced by Los Cerros, Sunshine Gardens, Hillside, Martin, and Spruce

Fitness for Retarded Children Subject of Meet

Wilhelm Schaser, a physical education instructor at El Camino High School in South San Francisco and member of Peninsula Association for Retarded Children met in the North area community recently.

Schaser will train mentally retarded students in physical fitness Tuesdays at 3 p.m. to qualify for a special track meet at Burlingame High School on June 14. The program is sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce throughout the county and will encompass handicapped boys and girls in all school districts from 8-18 years of age.

The students are training for such events as the 50 yard dash, the 300 yard run, standing broad jump, softball throw, 25 yard free style, standing start and swimming event, in order to compete in the Western Regional Special Olympics at the Los Angeles Coliseum July 26.

This Olympic event, held in Chicago last year, is sponsored by the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation. The event will be managed by the Los Angeles Park and Recreation Department. Last year, Bruce Henderson, a student at Parkway Junior school in South San Francisco competed in the Chicago competitions. He has been chosen to be torch bearer for the Special Olympics in Los Angeles.

Children who attend the Tuesday afternoon sessions at El Camino High School are requested to bring gym shorts, tennis shoes and swimming trunks. The class is open to boys and girls from 8 to 18, according to Florence Nelson, past president of PARCA and currently a member of the board.

Parents interested in having their children attend the special PE sessions are asked to help by taking other boys and girls to and from the classes. "Transportation is the major problem," stated Mrs. Jack Henderson.

Study Meets End 'Caucus' In San Bruno

Action to establish second and fourth Mondays, at 7 p.m., as special meetings for the purpose of "review and study" was taken by San Bruno City Councilmen.

It was City Attorney Joseph Galligan's way, in resolution form, to put an end, he said, to claims of a San Bruno council watchdog, Dick Griffith, that the caucus sessions twice monthly are "illegal."

The charges have resulted in considerable correspondence, and phone calls, Galligan noted, between Griffith and Galligan, Griffith and the state's attorney general, and Galligan and the attorney general.

Galligan said the caucus meetings have been held since "before 1940." The move was to "put to rest" the matter "simply by your adopting this resolution," Galligan told the councilmen, who approved the offering.

"It puts into writing," he said, "what the city's been doing for sometime."

Campaign Against Dump Planned

An outdoor writer warned the Board of Supervisors last week that he intends to organize a "massive campaign" against the location of a garbage and refuse dump at Green Valley just north of Montara.

Larry Green, San Bruno, appeared before the board to express the "bitter opposition" of the sportsmen to the Green Valley dump site, stating that there is a threat of pollution to the coastal area through drainage from the dump, which will be a fill and cover operation.

Board Chairman Robert St. Clair, noting that the dump site matter had been thoroughly discussed in the past, reluctantly allotted Green five minutes to state his case. The chairman stated that Green Valley and Ox Mountain have been designated as potential disposal sites and that the public has been assured of adequate hearings before the county takes any specific action to acquire the sites. The county presently has no funds with which to purchase the sites. Green asked the support of St. Clair "against, rather than for" the Green Valley dump site. The chairman declared Green out of order in attempting to ask each member of the board his personal feeling concerning the Green Valley site. Green then reported that he has recruited outdoor writers from newspapers throughout the Bay Area to meet at his home next week to organize a massive campaign urging sportsmen to "speak up against this site."

St. Clair replied that was Green's privilege.

Officer On Way to Work Arrests Man

Daly City patrolman Russell Cunningham didn't even get a chance to shave before reporting for duty Sunday night, but his superiors probably didn't notice.

While getting ready for work at about 11:25 p.m., Cunningham unexpectedly spied a man apparently trying to break into a parked car. There have been several such instances lately, Cunningham explained later.

Cunningham dashed downstairs, where, he said, he saw a man, identified as Paul A. Sandouk, 19, of Canoga Park, force his way into the auto. Cunningham, flashing his star, arrested Sandouk on Edgeworth Avenue, near Ninetieth Street.

Then the policeman and his suspect walked to the police station, across the street.

Cunningham later returned to the scene and on Ninetieth Street came upon a car found to be registered to Sandouk. Inside, were two juveniles, ages 15 and 17, and according to police, several stolen items.

Daly City police arrested two adults and a juvenile and charged them with auto theft shortly after 3 a.m. last Thursday.

One of the adults was also booked for possession of drugs.

Officer Tom Reese said he decided to "check out" the small foreign compact after he spotted it driving along Alemany Boulevard.

(The vehicle had been reported stolen in Berkeley last March and Reese stopped the car and arrested David Motta, 19, of Forty-seventh Avenue, driver; Anse T. Garth, 24, of 1056 Noe Street, and a 16-year-old youth — all of San Francisco.

Garth was charged with auto theft and possession of drugs after Reese allegedly found a small metal case with three packets containing an undetermined powder on him.

The juvenile was sent to Hillcrest Youth Guidance Center, and the two adults were booked into city jail.

Unlicensed Firms Rapped By Gust

By DON GRIERSON

Pacifica Mayor Nick Gust has called for a crackdown on persons operating businesses in the city without a proper license, non-conforming uses (such as home-operated businesses) and "other illegal practices which are costing the city thousands of dollars in lost revenues."

Gust appealed to city residents and the Chamber of Commerce last week to assist in "identifying and correcting situations where solicitations, deliveries, sales and other business operations are being carried on without the proper city licenses."

He has asked Chamber of Commerce members to provide lists of all outside firms with which they do business in order to run a check on licensing, and asked all residents to report "anybody doing business illegally."

"As badly as our city needs money, we simply cannot afford to allow these things to go on any longer," the mayor said.

He also ordered an investigation and crackdown on city residents who do not subscribe to a regular garbage collection service.

"According to information I have at hand, there are at least 500 residents in the city who are violating the city ordinance on garbage collection," he said.

Gust said some of these residents are dumping their garbage and trash in creeks, fields and other remote areas in the city, resulting in a "considerable expense" to the taxpayers for cleanup operations.

Add a Little Raisin Power to Cakes, for Party Scene or for Family

For a truly grand cake add a little raisin power! Here are three beauties to choose from, all chock-full of tiny seedless raisins. Two are scheduled for the party scene and one makes a nutritional family dessert guaranteed to brighten your routine.

The Time-Goes-By cake tastes like a giant chocolate covered raisin and is just right for the young set. Use the raisins whole so they will sink to the bottom of the cake. When you're ready to frost, put the two cake bottoms together for a unique raisin filling in the middle.

Even sophisticated adults will think a birthday grand when the hostess serves our birthday torta. Use a package of yellow cake mix for the layers. Ricotta cheese combines with seedless raisins, candied cherries, orange peel, almonds and grated chocolate for the superb filling.

For family night dinners, a carrot cake with raisins is a delicious and nutritious finale. Dad and the kids will enjoy its spiciness; Mom will love its simplicity.

In addition to their sweetness, raisins also keep cakes fresh and moist and give them substance. Use raisins often for that special flavor "something" in cookies, breads, salads and entrees.

TIME-GOES-BY RAISIN CAKE

Decorate the cake with the numbers around the clock in frosting, paper cut-outs or fondan flowers.

- 1 cup seedless raisins
- Water
- 1/2 cup butter
- 2 1/2 cups brown sugar (packed)
- 3 eggs
- 3 (1-ounce) squares unsweetened chocolate
- 2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons soda
- 1/2 cup buttermilk-x
- 2 teaspoons vanilla
- Chocolate Butter Frosting
- Or 1 1/2 teaspoons vinegar in 1/2 cup milk.

Cover raisins with hot water and let stand while preparing batter. Beat butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Beat in eggs, one at a time. Blend in melted chocolate. Resift flour with salt and soda. Add to chocolate mixture in thirds, alternating with buttermilk, beginning and ending with flour. Blend in vanilla and drained raisins. Stir in 1 cup boiling water. Pour very thin batter into 2 greased and floured 9-inch cake pans. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 to 35 minutes. Let stand in pans 10 minutes. Turn out onto racks to cool. Turn one layer upside down and frost with Chocolate Butter Frosting. Cover with second layer top side up. Frost top and sides of cake. Makes about 12 servings.

CHOCOLATE BUTTER FROSTING: Beat 1-3 cup soft butter. Gradually blend in 3/4 cups sifted powdered sugar alternately with 1/4 cup warm coffee. Add 1 melted (1-ounce) square unsweetened chocolate and 1 teaspoon vanilla.

RAISIN BIRTHDAY TORTA

A wonderfully different and delicious cake, whether or not you spike it with rum.

Ryan Keeps in Contact

HOWDY OUT THERE—Anyone interested in knowing that Assemblyman Leo Ryan (27th District) teaches school near Sacramento once a week? Ryan used to be a school teacher in South City and we guess he just wants to keep in contact. He's also chairman of the Assembly's Education Committee. Does he get paid for teaching? Ask him!

THINGS ARE LOOKING UP—The Daly City police department has 12 possibles. All they have to do before they are formally issued their very own can of Mace is to pass the physical. . . And whatever happened to that Negro firemen our Spy told us about?

ON THE SUBJECT OF COPS AND PLAQUES—How cum the Daly City council never put up a plaque for slain police officer Richard Klass who was fatally shot while trying to apprehend an escapee three years ago? They have plaques for the politicians who built the Civic Center, those who built the War Memorial, for the vets of the wars, but none for the fellow who gave his life right here in the city.

FAMILIAR SIGHT around town is smiling Judge Frank Blum pounding his two mile "beat" every morning. Doc's orders. Reminds one of the credo: Neither rains, nor sleet, nor snow, nor fog . . . (we get 'em all in Daly City, don't we, don't we?)

FLASHY FLASHY—More BARTD rumors flying around. Latest is BARTD may one-day in the not-too-dim future (depending on whether Daly City ever gets a station) build a BARTD extension through the city to the airport At No Cost To The County.

GOODBY ED, HELLO DAVID—Testimonial set for May 23 at Lake Merced to honor outgoing Daly City Mgr. Edward (Petaluma?) Frank, retiring at the end of June.

WITHOUT MENTIONING ANY NAMES, Yes, I did see that City Planner come in after the Pledge of Allegiance was said by the Daly City council the other night.

EACH YEAR the boss insists that I take a vacation. By the time you read this folks, I'll be recuperating from the vigors of covering Daly City and the North County at the Shady Oaks Rest Home.

Comedy Difficult for Amateurs

Comedy is tricky to do. It is more difficult than drama and can't be taught, learned or forced.

The plot of "A Mighty Man Is He," being thin to start with, needs all the magic and vivacity performers can bring to it. Unfortunately, the Millbrae Community Players, who opened the Arthur Kober, George Oppenheimer play last weekend at their Broadway Avenue Theater, aren't experienced or adept enough for this task.

What they've put together is a straight play, lacking the subtlety and temperament of comedy. The result is an ambivalent, tedious recount of infidelity, insurrection and in an American New York household.

The subject matter isn't uplifting but I remember seeing on two former occasions and the enjoyment was substantial. This time round, the production never gets off the ground, which shows admirable effort on the part of the players but little return in the laughter department.

BARBARA SQUIER HASN'T THE FLAIR for sarcasm and sophistication required as the wife who discovers her husband has a mistress. And to double her flippancy, on top of complete dismay and hurt pride, she discovers that he has a second mistress.

The energetic paramour in this case never appears on screen. As a Broadway producer, he's away from home a lot. Enough to cheat on two women at the same time he's making hay with a third, and much younger one.

Esther Beeby, looking very chic and youthful in a brunette wig, is the level-headed, charming girl friend Number One who conspires with the outraged (and confused) wife to ease out the nymphet whose overnight case contains a stuffed teddybear and sheer undies. She handled her assignment with verve.

The wife wins the bout, thereby putting the family back into respectable place and not offending anyone's morals or sense of injustice. It takes a heck of a lot of cosmopolitan throwaway lines and sparkle with the glamor of an ex-actress, Miss Squires had to play it like a suburban housewife. Her wardrobe should reflect her husband's profession and her former career.

DAVID BERBER IS FINE as the agitated son who finds his father isn't a man of principle nor a model of virtue. His reaction is honest, as is the confusion his anger causes with young Carol Mendell, his girl friend.

Florence Prutch is excellent as the publicity agent who has to keep tabs on a client too slippery for three women. Her rather tough businesslike attitude is the only saving grace of the first act.

Bud Radseck and Jack O'Hara have doll bits as the butler and biographer, respectively, but the former needs to project more personality and the former should pick up tempo.

Miles Heberer has worked his raw material into a compact show, not one that scintillates or captivates, but one that is modestly amusing and certainly earnest in effort. Having Joanne Gaudio read the part of the younger Judy Chazal, as the interloper, did distract the players and audience on opening night. But she did a spartan job of covering for the ailing actress and cannot be blamed for the cumbersome production that ensued.

American Teens

At Spartan Stadium in San Jose, 2,500 young people participated in a dance festival.

Under the lights they marched onto the field in perfect rhythm. Then all stood at attention while a troop of Boy Scouts carried twenty American flags to the center of the field.

Everyone of the 2,500 raised his voice to sing the National anthem. To a man the ten-thousand people in the bleachers rose to join in the hymn.

Here were a people showing their love for their country. They were unashamed of their patriotism. For them America is still a great land, in spite of her problems.

AS THE NOTES filled the air, I stood knowing, as Dr. H. H. Remmers wrote in his book, The American Teenager, that American youth has the ability to understand his country and himself and to "go beyond the status quo. Democracy's real promise is the growth of each individual to his maximum potential."

These were young people who are growing and, with them and the thousands like the country grows, too.

Among all the dancers there was not a sour dissident; not a rioter. They were wholesome, happy, young people seeking self realization through cooperative activity.

I recalled Dr. Remmer's comment: "The American teenager will contribute to our society much more than that society could possibly give him. He will be, indeed, an inspiration to his family, his community, and the world."

The 2,500 young people in Spartan Stadium that day represent a vast host who will advance the ideals of justice and liberty in this land. They are young men and women who can still salute the flag and yet cooperate to get rid of old prejudices and hates. They will learn through their activities to recognize the value of each person in a cooperative effort — today dance festivals and alike; tomorrow the causes of democracy.

I AM SURE such young people are not unaware of the problems of the world. They know that they have been raised in a time of international tension and internal friction. They know they live in an era that is an emotional pressure cooker, yet they can work together and they can speak their minds without violence.

Many things spoken by American youth are recorded in The American Teenager, by H. H. Remmers and D. H. Radler. Adults who read it will know, as Doctor Remmers writes, that "the youth of America has inspiring qualities that will become apparent" if society cares enough to smooth the way.

Rotary Sending Three to Europe

The students, (left to right) are Tina Herbert (Germany), Maureen Wilson (Italy) and Janet Goheen Holland. Girls will "live in" with families to learn customs and habits of the country, under auspices of Rotary's "Experiment in International Living." A Tough Bill

A TOUGH BILL, Consumer Full Warranty Protective Act of 1969, which would dictate that the manufacturer, not the consumer must bear the costs of repair or replacement, has been introduced to Congress.

Arguments for the bill are that well-constructed products do not generally require servicing so, therefore, manufacturers of high quality products have nothing to fear.

The bill, it is argued, would make manufacturers of shoddy merchandise clean up operations or get out of business, all of this resulting in the entire community of reputable businessmen being benefited.

Arguments against the act are that it would cost too much, its provisions would have a burdensome effect on interstate commerce and that small business would be driven into bankruptcy.

If passed the FTC would have for the first time authority to see that every consumer is protected by a meaningful warranty backed up by adequate service facilities. The FTC would be empowered to issue cease and desist orders when violations are uncovered. Criminal penalties will be established for failure of manufacturers to enclose cards with their products which accurately describe the warranty coverage and for failure to keep or submit any of the records or reports required by the act.

TODAY, MANY manufacturers limit themselves solely to the replacement of malfunctioning parts. The customer must pay the labor, service and transportation costs incidental to the replacement of parts. Some warranties make the manufacturer sole judge of whether the part is defective. Other warranties contain provisions which void protection altogether if the product is moved from the original premises (of owner) or is sold to another person during the lifetime of the warranty. Some guarantees run from the date of manufacture rather than date of delivery to consumer.

Under the present warranty system, weeks or even months may go by before the necessary repairs are made by the manufacturers. If a machine is not repairable, manufacturers have been known to stall replacing until warranty expires or perhaps they will send the customer on a wild goose chase.

The proposed Consumer Full Warranty Protection Act requires sellers of goods to guarantee that the goods are free from defects of materials or workmanship.

THE GOODS are fit for ordinary purposes for which such goods are used; the goods are fit for any particular purposes about which the buyer has informed the retailer or manufacturer; the goods comply with the description made by the seller; and good title, free from any liens, is being conveyed to the consumer.

Under this legislation the seller would be free to add to the warranty but not to subtract from it. Other provisions require that warranties have at least one year duration measured from date of delivery, reserving to the FTC the power to require a longer term if necessary.

If the product is transferred to another person during the lifetime of the warranty, the new owner is entitled to claim protection under the warranty. All warranties must be expressed in clear and concise terms with the addresses of approved servicing facilities and clearly described procedure for filing a claim.

The manufacturer is required to establish service facilities at convenient locations to repair goods without cost to the consumer. The manufacturer is also required to bear all transportation and labor cost. He is required to make necessary repairs promptly. If he fails to do so within 60 days, he will be subject to special penalties. If the merchandise proves to be unrepairable, the manufacturer has the ultimate responsibility for fulfilling all terms of the warranty.

A SPECIAL 'SEE' TRIP IDEA

Mission San Antonio Merry Place During Fiesta Time

VISITING California's old missions is a pleasant experience any time — but it's especially so when special events are held. These are the times when merry music echoes through the dark esplanades, when ancient ovens are fired up to feed a crowd, when dancing feet clickety-clack on worn old stones.

Sometimes the emphasis is on fun, as it is at the Annual Fiesta Celebration set for June 8 at Mission San Antonio near Jolon, says the California State Automobile Association.

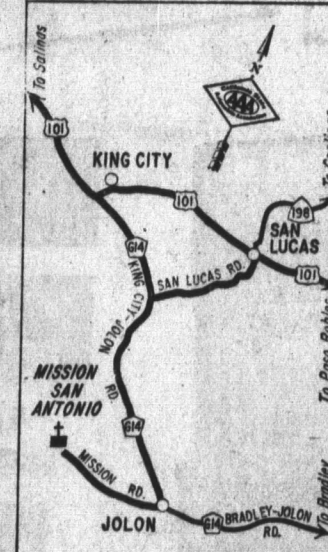

Mission San Antonio was the third mission in the California chain to be founded (1771) and is located off the beaten path in the midst of the Hunter Liggett military reservation. It is the easiest of all the missions to visualize how it must have been some 200 years ago when the Franciscan Padres and the Salinan Indians worked side by side in the Valley of the Oaks.

Almost completely restored in 1949 after almost a century of abandonment because of secularization, the mission spreads out in grand style and the traveler coming upon it senses the spaciousness that characterized all the missions in their heyday.

In its prime, the mission was the home of 1,300 Indians, who worked at a score of handicrafts, produced bountiful crops and herded some 17,000 livestock. Today, the brown-robed Franciscan padres pad quietly along the tiled floors and the mission still serves as a training center for young men aspiring to the Franciscan Brotherhood.

MISSION SAN ANTONIO . . . And How to Get There

Tea Time's Passing

Word from Britain has it that the tea and crumpet habit is departing. Gone are the traditional tea dances; members of Parliament prefer a quick trip and a hard drink at the bar. As one Londoner mourns, "somehow that side of British life just seems to have faded away."

Have the British, long critical of the American custom of hurrying, succumbed to the rush themselves? Ironically, when there was the route to India to maintain and a quarter of the globe to govern, there always was time for tea.

Now, with less to do and more time to do it in, Britons seem as determined as anyone to get nowhere fast.

Easily Queazy

There was a time when a "little dab would do ya." But no more.

These are new times, with new approaches, new "drives," a new lack of inhibitions, new attitudes, new trails blazed to the hearts of men. Nor is olfactory impact being neglected.

If a fellow wants to bring her crawling, not only must he have a head of hair that will stay down in a hurricane, but he must use the right mouth wash.

He must smell like something that sets her to breaking up the furniture, drive a car that makes things happen, smoke a cigarette that's at least three silly millimeters longer.

He must use a tooth paste that gives his mouth kiss appeal, try a shaving cream that takes it all off.

He must offer the lady a cigar and drink a vodka martini, to mention just a few of the bare necessities.

Of course, when it comes to the non-necessities, he can also wear a necklace and paint his toenails.

Is it any wonder the poor guy's got excess stomach acid?

Scholarships Offered For Top S.M. Seniors

Twenty-four San Mateo County high school seniors have been honored as Outstanding Student Award Winners in the thirteenth annual awards program co-sponsored by savings and loan associations of the county, in cooperation with the state-wide California Savings and Loan League.

The students were guests of honor at a recognition dinner held May 7 at the Brentwood School, East Palo Alto; Allan I. Lodge, attended by high school principals, faculty representatives, county and school administrative officials, parents of the students, and savings and loan association executives. Each winner received a cash award of $100 and an engraved medalion.

Principal speaker at the dinner was Philip Garlington, president of Skyline College who spoke on the topic, Campus Life and Citizenship.

Local winners were: Willa Goldman, Aragon High School, San Mateo; Bruce J. (Jim) Eswein II, Burlingame High School, Burlingame; Marilyn Suey, Capuchino High School, San Bruno; Trevor G. Pollard, Carmont High School, Belmont.

Kathleen Kathleen Mary Fitzgerald, Crestmoor High School, San Bruno; Christine Ann Henderson, El Camino High School, South San Francisco; William Brent Parsons, Half Moon Bay High School, Half Moon Bay; Stephen L. Hillsdale, Hillside High School, San Mateo; Jasmin T. Flores, Jefferson High School, the student.

The $75,000 Outstanding Student Award Program was initiated thirteen years ago by the California Savings and Loan League, to encourage students to achieve high scholastic standing and to participate in extra-curricular activities which help develop leadership. It is unique in that each principal of over 600 senior high schools in the state selects an outstanding graduating senior for the cash award and medallion. The award is granted irrespective of other scholarship funds won by the student.

EDWARD B. WATSON of South San Francisco has been promoted to manager of Bank of America's Sunset branch in San Francisco. He replaces A. J. Finocchio, who is retiring after 50 years of service with B of A. Watson has been manager of the bank's Polk-Green office. A native of Salt Lake City, he joined the bank in 1945 after serving in the Air Corps for three years.

Warriors Just Took Their Turn

If past records were any indication this was South San Francisco's year to win the track title in the North Peninsula League and the Warriors held true to form.

Since 1965 the title has alternated between SSF and Westmoor. The defending champion Rams came up a little short this season and the star-crippled Warriors still had enough to win the 1969 crown with a strong last-day showing.

Lacking the sure-hurdle-winner, Ashland Whitfield, out with a leg injury, the Warriors relied on brute strength in the field events and a triple-win effort by Phil Andre to rack up 80 points, 17 ahead of runner-up Westmoor.

Jefferson, which didn't even enter a varsity team, took the "B" competition with a narrow win over Oceana while newly installed Serramonte High School won the "C" title by 10 points over second-place SSF.

Andre paced Marv Ashby's crew with a 23.2 in the 220-yard dash and a 50.8 time in the 440 while also taking time out to anchor the winning mile-relay squad.

Weightmen Jim Olmo, Marty Cohen and Bob Bernal led a sweep in the shot put event which headed a Warrior domination of the field events.

Recipes By School Aide

Mrs. Margaret Rossander, Westmoor's home economics instructor is a busy woman these days.

Home economics teachers throughout the United States were asked to contribute recipes to a workbook compiled of their favorites. Mrs. Rossander's "California Sweet Potatoes" recipe was selected for inclusion. Now that the book has been printed students and faculty expect autographed copies from the author-cook.

Cooking is not her only talent, as Mrs. Rossander made variegated tissue paper uses for the Spring Festival.

A free drawing for the roses and one cookbook was held Open House night. Winning the cookbook was Susan Grisvold while Angie Gardner, Josephine Wang, and Dave Kunst were the lucky recipients of rose clusters.

Camino Throws the N.P.L. Into Tie

Juggling Act in MPL Continues; Cap Leads

The juggling act in the 1969 Mid Peninsula League baseball game continued on Friday, with upstart Crestmoor causing it to take on all appearances of a two-team showdown.

Capuchino took over first place once again by knocking Mills from the top rung, 9-1, while Crestmoor just about eliminated the title aspirations of third place Burlingame with a stunning 1-0 victory over the Panthers. In the other game, Aragon acquired a hard-earned 1-0 pitcher's duel over San Mateo.

The race shapes up thusly: Capuchino, now 8-3, traveled to Aragon Tuesday for their final game. If they win, the Mustangs cinch a tie for the title. The Vikings, now 6-3, have a rough

Jefferson's Baseballers Downed, 7-6

By JERRY LITTRELL
Post Sports Writer

El Camino's Colts, titleholders in North Peninsula League baseball the past two seasons, rose from their fifth-place standing Friday to decide this season's winners.

Harry Pitkoff's crew downed first-place Jefferson in dramatic fashion, 7-6, to drop the Indians into a co-championship with Terra Nova, which had the agonizing duty of watching yesterday's contest with a bye. In other conference finals, South San Francisco ended the season at 6-6 after blanking Westmoor, 2-0, while Half Moon Bay's sensational lefty, Jim Emery, capped an excellent junior year by throwing his second no-hitter of the season in beating Oceana, 8-0.

Now the problems really begin for the co-champions. The NPL baseball champ is committed to two tournaments this year, the Redwood Tournament of Champions in San Rafael and the Central Coast Sectional Playoffs starting in Burlingame and ending in San Jose. Both teams have expressed a desire to go to the CCS playoffs as first choice.

The league's Board of Managers will have to confer in a special session sometime this coming week to decide what will have to be done. There is no provision in the league's constitution for a post-season playoff but the board does have the power to authorize such a precedent-setting move.

But, meanwhile, back on the diamond... the Colts had to rally from a 4-3 deficit in the last inning and did so with four sharp hits for four runs and then withstood a Jefferson two-run rally in the bottom of the seventh for the victory, picked up by relief pitcher Fred Herpe.

Jefferson had every chance in the world to win the game easily as Colt pitchers Ted DePucchi, Herpe and Dennis Camperdon walked 12 Indians. Four of the seven innings the Indians had the bags loaded mainly through EC wildness. But Jeff's nine could get just four hits to accompany the passes as they left 14 runners stranded.

Trailing 4-3 in the seventh Camino started to rally with a single by Brian Finnlayson and a life-giving error to Bob Barton. Garry Commick then singled in Finnlayson with the tying run and DePucchi singled in the go-ahead run and then stole second. A sacrifice by centerfielder Paul Lee brought in the third run before Camperdon singled in the final, and winning, tally.

Jefferson tried a comeback as Frank Edelman, Smoky Morton and Nick Gentile all walked and George Castro got another free pass to force in one score. Bruce Davidson then singled in another run but Camperdon struck out Jeff's Tony Moss to finally end the contest.

South City got some power-hitting from first baseman Ron

To Benefit Trip

Seniors, Faculty Matched

Realizing that the Westmoor High Senior Picnic is in jeopardy, the class of 1969 has challenged the Westmoor Faculty to a basketball tilt May 22 at 8 p.m. in the Daly City School's boy's gym.

The complex busing problem, incurred because Westmoor and Serramonte share the same buses forced the senior class to raise money to rent buses to keep the traditional picnic alive.

Such favorites as Steve (The Flea) Powell, Charlie (The Little Tyrant) Freiberg, Mike (The Mauler) Mason, Steve (Wongarm) Roache, and "Smilin'" Gordy Contreras will be playing for the graduating class.

Coached by varsity basketball star Mike (Giamona Jr.) Brown, the class of '69 will also have such stars as Nick (The Greek) Nicholas, Joel (Rocky)

Carrara, Joel (Lusty) Lesser, Mike (The Mouth) Milon, and "Dirty" Dana Marcus.

Experienced against the KYA Olanders, the faculty should be tough to beat.

The seniors will have to cope with the outside shooting of "Tiny" Tony Giammona, the one-handed set shooting of "Happy" Harry Weidner, and Rodney (Sir Sedley) Losberger.

The seniors also will have to stop the rebounding of Herb (The Big Wheel) Goodyear and Jack (The Rummage) Ramage. Also playing for the faculty will be Jack (The Ripper) Coolidge and "Leapin'" Leonard Martin.

Coached by Bobbie (Bad News) Lotti, the faculty will also sport such stars as "Wild" Bill (The Butcher) Comejo and "Pistol Pete" Matisi.

Announcing the game, "by popular demand," is senior Mike Clabby.

The sole purpose of the game is to lower the cost of the senior picnic.

Swimmers Are Stricken

Two members of the Crestmoor High School swim team were stricken May 18th after a heavy dose of chlorine had been sprayed in the pool.

The youths, Paul Needham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Needham, 138 Oxford Way, San Bruno, and James Kirk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kirk, 2225 Crestmoor Drive, San Bruno, were taken to Peninsula Hospital for overnight observation. They were slated to be released today.

Thimble Tempest

WITH HALF a tongue in cheek, a few months ago, we wrote of the fallacies of jogging, and as a result had more criticism leveled at us than we had in 34 years—dating back to the time our father first saw us in the hospital room.

It was really a tempest in a thimble, because all we actually said, if the fanatics would have read beyond their zeal, was that jogging isn't good for everybody in all circumstances.

Now, it seems, our existence as a fitness nonconformist is justified, and we withdraw even that half a tongue from our cheek. Because, according to Dr. Ludwig G. Lederer, medical director for American Airlines (as quoted by a reporter last week), "Rather than go on a sudden diet of strenuous push-ups to lose weight (he said) the fat and lazy are probably far better off indulging in such relatively light exercise as 'running down... friends, jumping to conclusions, sidestepping responsibilities and pushing their luck.'"

(Makes our suggestion of walking to the corner mailbox every four weeks to post the monthly bill payments downright vigorous, doesn't it?)

"Joggers, apparently, came in all shapes and all degrees of disrepair."

"In city after city, come 7 a.m., the steady clip clop of rubber sole against concrete signifies a hopeful parade of misshapen, unshaven, dedicated men in sweatshirts—puffing their way to and from local parks."

"This daily routine, the good doctor said, is probably doing a person's heart, lungs, muscle tone and weight control a lot of good—providing... it doesn't kill you, or bring on a coronary attack, or leave you limping around on bad knees and ankles."

"I DO FEEL very strongly that unsupervised sudden exercise of severe effort and untimed duration should be avoided. There have been deaths in such circumstances...."

"As opposed to unsupervised jogging or more strenuous exercise, Dr. Lederer indicated, a plump individual was more likely to avoid heart strain by a moderate regimen of just walking across the room to turn on his television set...."

"Dr. Lederer's wary attitude toward exercise—and particularly jogging—received support from Dr. Earl Carter, a Mayo Clinic expert...."

In other words, fans, jogging is okay—if you're in shape.

IF YOU FINALLY managed to struggle those those last few exciting games of the professional basketball season between Boston and L.A., you might enjoy—and better appreciate the refinement of today's game—the following reprinting of Dr. James A. Naismith's original Rules of Basketball:

1—The ball may be thrown in any direction with one or both hands.

2—The ball may be batted in any direction with one or both hands (never with the fist).

3—A player cannot run with the ball. The player must throw it from the spot on which he catches it, allowance to be made for a man who catches the ball when running if he tries to stop.

4—The ball must be held by the hands; the arms or body must not be used for holding it.

5—No shoudering, holding, pushing, tripping, or striking in any way the person of an opponent shall be allowed; the first infringement of this rule by any player shall count as a foul, the second shall disqualify him until the next goal is made, or, if there was evident intent to injure the person, for the whole game, no substitute allowed.

6—A foul is striking at the ball with the fist, violation of Rules 3, 4 and such as described in rule 5.

7—If either side makes three consecutive fouls it shall count a goal for the opponent (consecutive means without the opponents in the meantime making a foul).

8—A goal shall be made when the ball is thrown or batted from the grounds into the basket and stays there, providing those defending the goal do not touch or disturb the goal. If the ball rests on the edges, and the opponent moves the basket, it shall count as a goal.

9—When the ball goes out of bounds, it shall be thrown onto the field of play by the person first touching it. He has a right to hold it unmolested for five seconds. In case of a dispute the umpire shall throw it straight into the field. The thrower-in is allowed five seconds; if he holds it longer, it shall go to the opponent. If any side persists in delaying the game the umpire shall call a foul on that side.

10—The umpire shall be judge of the men and shall not the fouls and notify the referee when three consecutive fouls have been made. H shall have power to disqualify men according to Rule 5.

11—The referee shall be judge of the ball and shall decide when the ball is in play, in bounds, to which side it belongs, and shall keep the time. He shall decide when a goal has been made, and keep account of the goals, with any other duties that are usually performed by a referee.

12—The time shall be two 15-minute halves, with five minutes' rest between.

13—The side making the most goals in that time shall be declared the winner. In case of a draw the game may, by agreement of the captains, be continued until another goal is made.

TO ADD to the peculiarity of basketball in the 1890's, there were games played with seven, eight, and even nine men a side. At one time there were three periods of 20 minutes each. All field goals, for a while, scored three points, and at one time when a foul was committed, the fouled team could call a free throw specialist to the line instead of having to allow the fouled player to shoot.

There were such disparity in the rules because basketball became popular so fast that many promoters never waited to get the detailed rules from Naismith, but just used the general basic rules of which they had heard from second and third hand sources.

Eventually, some of the biggest athletic groups in the country (YMCA, AAU, etc. got together and standardized the rules, which, of course, have been continually modified since.

TAG ND: Who'd have ever thought it. According to latest National League statistics, the Dodgers—at this writing—are fifth in the league in hitting (ahead of San Francisco), tied for SECOND in home runs (with the Giants), and second in the NL in runs scored (ahead of our boys).

Rally Panel At Westmoor Set to Go

Slated to go into action in the fall of 1969 with the goal of stimulating rally participation and spirit and inspiring sports enthusiasts to attend athletic events is the newly-elected Westmoor rally committee.

Fresh-soph cheerleaders are Karen Neugebauer, Leslie Anderson, Mary Alarcon and Amy Hall. Varsity cheerleaders are Debbie Vocke, Wendy Sparks, Mike Harriman, Pam Sousa and Patti Allen. Pam and Wendy will be in their third year of cheerleading duties.

Wendy will serve as head cheerleader. Debbie and Patti will be graduating from the frosh-soph to varsity rank.

Mike is a novice to the Rally Committee.

Pom pon girls are Lori Kleutsch, Stephanie Sklavos, Janet Hirsch, Kathy Alexander and Nany Seager. All are new to the rally committee with the exception of Kathy, who served this year as a frosh-soph cheerleader. Stephanie will serve as head pep girl.

Winners went through a series of "tests" on their knowledge of basketball, baseball, football and wrestling rules.

Passing the exam, pom pon girls displayed their original routines and cheerleaders, both frosh-soph and varsity, executed the traditional "V.V. Victory Cheer," all were judged by Miss Barbara Bosio and Mrs. Pat Stone, co-advisers in charge of the rally committee.

The last step, which brought the most anxiety, were school elections, when the student body voted after viewing lunchtime exhibitions.

Folia and excellent pitching from Rich Crumpton to hand a shutout to Westmoor in just 90 minutes.

Crumpton limited the Rams to three hits and two walks while striking out four. His opponent, lefty Steve Roche, struck out six but gave up a home run to Folia, who also smashed a ground-rule double in the fifth inning for the only run seen.

A double by catcher Brad Brian and an ensuing single by Lou Lodigiani gave Bob Brian's crew a little sixth-inning insurance.

Smery set a new league record in pitching yesterday's seven-inning masterpiece. The Cougars precocious thrower's final netted him 84 1-3 innings of work this year as he threw to every single batter the Cougars faced in league play. The previous record was 77 innings held by HMB's Bill Beacock since 1967.

A ROUGH STREAK

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo.

University of Denver's 83-80 loss to U.S. Air Force Academy was doubly painful to DU Coach Stan Albeck. It was the Pioneers' 11th consecutive defeat, tying a school record, and he accidentally got a dose of "freezes" spray in his eye while treating an injured player. The eye smarted for hours.

Dining and Browsing At Scotty Campbell's

For consistency in serving the best, Scotty Campbell's restaurant owners, Mary Lou Francis and Theresa and Bud Urban, are to be congratulated. Steaks, prime ribs of beef, barbecued baby ribs, sea food and many other enticing mealtime treats go to make this Redwood City Restaurant a dine out attraction. You're also invited to browse around after dinner and inspect their collection of artifacts and antiques. George Skaff, general manager of the Franciscan restaurant at Fisherman's Wharf, has been serving in his present capacity for the past 12 years. The Thunderbolt Hotel in Millbrae offers the right combination for an evening of relaxation — dining, cocktails and dancing to the Cava Combo, featuring Jo Ann Roe, in the Chez Michel Room. Andy Wong, who owned night clubs in the Bay Area for many years, is now an auto salesman for George Olson Chevrolet in San Francisco at Van Ness and O'Farrell. That's just one block from Tommy's Joynt, so guess where Andy lunches and dines. Right—Tommy's Joynt. "Dapper" Bill Mills, executive chef at the Shadows of San Mateo, took a day off from his culinary duties and enjoyed the "sport of kings" at Bay Meadows.

Mary Lou

GOURMET CHINESE FOOD—Enjoy a "Dinner of the Month," the unique dining adventures at the Golden Pavilion restaurants of Los Altos and San Francisco. Dine in authentic Chinese banquet style on such lavish epicurean delights as Lotus Root Slices with Pork, Chinese Truffles, Harlequin Duck and Malayan Beef Slices.

The Cabana Hotel in Palo Alto is featuring a new series of panel discussions in Nero's Nook. Called "Sunday Night Talk-In," the informal discussions, with audience participation, on current controversial subjects are open to the public at no charge.

Nancy McGlone

Nancy McGlone is the moderator (she's the school teacher who was dismissed for wearing miniskirts and capri pants). This season's Quarter Horse Night Race meet is off to a fast start. Quarter horses, the world's fastest, are now racing at Bay Meadows in San Mateo through June 21. Tuesday through Saturday post time is 7:45 p.m. Enjoy an evening of dinner, cocktails and a nine-race card of excitement in the comfort of heated stands. Chuck Herschler and his wife, Virginia, would like it to be known that although he is selling cars for the Van Ness Oldsmobile in San Francisco, his "garage" is still right here on the Peninsula. The current show at the Purple Onion has been receiving incredibly loud applause lately from Greyline Bus tourists. Seems the visiting out-of-towners are astounded at the vocal quality of Walt Brown and Gail Burbus. Topsy's now features a bottomless revue featuring Miss Shelley, Lee Ray, and singer Rollie Willis.

Enrico Romano, owner of Romano's Italian restaurant at Rockaway Beach (Pacific), is still stocking in extra supplies these days in preparation for the onslaught of Summer patrons he'll be expecting. The days are sunny and warm over on the coast side, and Romano's, of course, is one of the favorite stopping places for those taking scenic rides or going to the beach. Vern Coenenberg, rancher-restaurantier and owner of the prosperous San Mateo Black Angus Chuck Wagon, claims fame to the longest salad bar (30 feet, to be exact) in Northern California, featuring a variety of salads to entice your appetite. Nanci Bond, who is one-third of the Tokyo Playmates currently at the newly reopened Forbidden City, is a sensuous lass who hails from Florida. Affectionally called "Yoshiko" by her friends, she has been known to evoke a "Va-va Voom" from assorted males. The monthly luncheon of the Frier's Club was staged at Bruno's in San Francisco's Mission and was sparked by a two-fisted address by Attorney Jake Ehrlich. The Master kept the boys spellbound while delving into police activities in San Francisco.

Hilton Inn Amateur Contest Finals June 12

The Top amateur talent in the Bay Area can be found Thursday nights at the Hilton Inn Tiger Room competing in the weekly "Talent Safari." The finals will be held June 12, with the winners receiving a week's engagement with Russell Lee and Birdie, now appearing at the Tiger. For application blanks, write or call the Hilton Inn, located at the San Francisco International Airport and featuring plenty of free parking. The International Garden restaurant in Burlingame is noted for serving the favorite dish of each nation — one dish for each day of the month. Private parties and banquets are arranged, with your favorite dish being served. Lucien Sabella, owner of A. Sabella's restaurant at Fisherman's Wharf, realized that most diners would have to visit one place to eat dinner and another for Espresso coffee or Cappuccino. To help solve the problem, he recently introduced a fancifully-decorated Cappuccino machine in his restaurant. Ten different birthday parties were celebrated all at the same time at Oreste's restaurant in San Francisco and waiters were constantly going back and forth singing, "Happy Birthday."

Margie Brandon, the Pianobar favorite at Baron's Lounge, was originally hired to play in the cocktail spot for 10 days, but ended up charming patrons so well she has now gone into her tenth year. She has become as permanent to the scene as Union Square or the Cable Car. There's a new first mate-a aboard the Cap'n's Cabin in San Mateo: Dee Buegal, who stands just 4 feet, 10 inches, has a dynamic personality that keeps patrons glancing from "Port" to "Starboard" as she serves the libations. Dazzling Juliet Prowse and four male dancers from her touring show ringsided at Finocchio's, and joined in the response given this revue of female impersonators. When introduced by emcee Al St. Claire, Miss Prowse was the recipient of a big round of applause. Finocchio's presents four shows every evening, starting at 9 p.m. If you want to see the long of it, drop into the Condon in North Beach and watch Julie Green, the six foot, nine inch topless-bottomless dancer who astounds the eye with her 47-23-36.

For information write Lloyd Johnson, c/o The Times, 1080 S. Bayshore, San Mateo, or phone 342-7711.

Prosecutor of Sirhan Raps Pre-Trial Publicity Ban, and Psychiatrists

By WILL E. THOMAS

The chief prosecutor in the celebrated Sirhan Sirhan murder case Lynn D. (Buck) Compton, May 14 decried the use of psychiatry in that Los Angeles trial and also the muzzle "a young judge" placed on pre-trial publicity.

Speaking to members of the San Mateo County Trial Lawyers' Association at the Thunderbolt Hotel in Millbrae, Compton said the prosecution's aim from the beginning had been "to overthrow the case if necessary, to show the world we're not suppressing anything."

Despite intense psychiatric testimony by Dr. Bernard L. Diamond, Sirhan was convicted of the June, 1968 slaying of Senator Robert Kennedy in a service pantry of Los Angeles' Ambassador Hotel.

In rapping a "young" Superior Court judge's directive that there be no pre-trial publicity, the husky "old-school prosecutor" (as San Mateo County District Attorney Keith Sorenson described Compton) spoke of a "definite public need to know things."

He pointed out that the release of information to the news media would have dispelled rumors and allayed the fears of citizens who thought other persons were in danger.

"We couldn't even talk about the kooks who came forward," Compton explained.

Through publicity, the public would have been made aware, for instance, that the "Polka Dot Dress Girl" was the figment of someone's imagination, he said.

He called the judge's ruling a "serious problem."

Compton explained that the muzzle was put not only on the prosecution, but was to be placed on all witnesses, as well.

The jurist, said Compton, "went, in my opinion, overboard in this pre-trial publicity business."

He noted the judge had "no comprehension of the problems" facing an elected officer who is dogged for answers by newsmen.

"It's not that easy for us," Compton declared.

"It's very difficult," he added, "for an elected public official to just tell the press to go away."

An appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court failed to bring a change, Compton declared.

He reiterated, "I think it's a bad thing."

On the role of psychiatry in the courtroom, Compton admitted he had "a thing" about it. He called the advent of psy-

Youth Will Pick Own At Pacifica

Pacifica councilmen agreed Monday to allow the city's high school students to select their own youth representatives to the city council without school or city interference.

Councilmen agreed to grant the request of present youth council representative Phil Gates of Terra Nova High School that the elected student body vice president at the school be allowed to serve as youth representative.

The action, in effect, removes the council's prerogative in approving the youth representatives.

In the past, the youths were selected by principals at the city's two high schools, and had to be approved by the council.

Gates said students at his school feel the representative should be elected and the vice president should assume the duty "because he has nothing much to do."

The only stipulation to be imposed is that the representative must be either a junior or senior in high school.

'Aerospace' Event For Coast Youth

Every boy and girl in Pacifica, from the age of six on up, is invited to "get involved" with "EXPO-AEROSPACE."

The Pacifica Cadet Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol is sponsoring two days of contests, demonstrations, movies, displays, exhibits, and action to bring aviation and aerospace into the lives of every elementary, high school and college student in the city.

On May 24, at Oceana High School, and May 25 at Terra Nova High School, the action will continue from 10 a.m. through 7 p.m. There will be a big Teen Space Blast-off dance at Oceana Saturday night, co-sponsored by C.A.P. and the Pacifica Recreation Department.

The main features of the two-day event are the many contests for which airlines have donated flight bags and other prizes to go to the winners. Such prizes include:

airplane flying, kite flying, balsa glider flying, plastic model planes and rockets, space costume contests, color guard competitions, science project contests and others, are scheduled.

Movies will be almost continuous throughout both days, on aviation and aerospace projects of interest to all age groups.

The CAP suggests that every Pacifica family come and spend the whole day. Admission includes contest entries and all entertainment. Only the cost of food, soft drinks and souvenirs will be extra.

For more information about the contests, check with the Park, Beach and Recreation Departments, the high school science departments or C.A.P. Contest Headquarters, 1510 Crespi Drive, Pacifica. Application blanks may also be available at some merchants throughout the city of Pacifica.

GETTING PRIZES ready for "Expo Aerospace" contests May 24 and 25 in Pacifica are Civil Air Patrol cadets Christine Morello and Paul Poso. The Pacifica Cadet Squadron is sponsoring dozens of contests at Oceana High May 24 and at Terra Nova High May 25, to appeal to youngsters of all ages.
